All the Arts for All the People!

Our mission

To inspire & nurture the arts in Merced County

Hmong dolls with traditional Hmong quilt

Why are we here?

Just a few reasons

- To enrich the lives of Merced County residents through the arts
- To provide art education, location and communication
- To facilitate music, arts and cultural celebrations, such as the Big Valley Arts & Culture Festival
- To organize education conferences and public art projects

ARTREE

To enhance the fine and performing arts in education

- An award-winning resource for the schools and the community in Merced County since 1985
- Over 70 professional artists available to teach classes, give performances, conduct teacher in-services and assist in curriculum development
- Activities include dance, drama, music and the literary and visual arts

Enrichment Center

Providing instruction in and a forum for exploration in the arts for adults with developmental disabilities

- Year-round arts programming
- Teach skills enhancement activities through arts-based curriculum
- Encourage social activities for clients, such as outings and dances

Merced Multicultural Arts Center

A downtown redevelopment anchor

- Completed in 1996
- American Institute of Architecture Award
- CA League of Cities Helen Putnam Award for Excellence
- Three-story facility
- Arts education and training spaces
- Black box theatre
- Five galleries
- Arbor Gallery, a retail co-op of over 30 regional artists
